

Estimation Consulting

Services Data Sheet

Overview

Estimation is a very critical area in IT projects. The ability to accurately estimate the time and/or cost taken for a project to come in to its successful conclusion is a serious problem for software engineers and for many organizations.

CyberQ Offerings

- Estimation Consulting
- Trainings / Workshops

Trainings /Workshops

CyberQ has highly experienced team of experts that can help an organization with trainings/workshops to develop and improve their estimation process and techniques.

Estimation Consulting

- There is a high possibility that existing estimation techniques are not best fit to nature of projects that an organization is into.
- CyberQ provides Estimation Consulting to help organizations build right kind of size models suitable to your nature of projects and working.